INVASION DAY
NAZI GUESSES
NOT FAR OFFGEN. JODL REVEALS MISTAKES OF HIS HIGH COMMAND

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR

Paris, June 21. (AP)—The Germans guessed the place, strength and approximate time of the Allied invasion of Normandy, but were fooled in their expectation that a second, stronger thrust would come farther north, a supreme headquarters intelligence officer disclosed today after questioning Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl of the Nazi high command.

This officer said questioning of Jodl and Field Marshals Wilhelm Keitel and Albert Kesselring also had disclosed that:

Orders for German invasion of Britain were issued July 2, 1940, but were cancelled Oct. 6, three months later, because of the hazards and lack of training;

Surprise in Africa

Hitler alone did not make the decision to invade Russia, but the German high command shares in that decision, and Jodl claimed the Russians had been strengthening their forces facing Germany;

The Allied invasion of North Africa scored a complete surprise, and

The Germans were amazed by the failure of their attempt to smash the American corridor out of Normandy at Avranches last August.

Jodl was quoted as saying that although the German high command guessed the general area and approximate strength of the D-day invasion, the Germans had expected it several weeks earlier.

The Nazis were certain, Jodl said, that the Allies would make a second, even stronger assault farther north in the Pas de Calais area, and for this reason hesitated to shift 14 divisions of the German 15th army concentrated there to Normandy to reinforce the German Seventh army.

Determined to hold the Pas de Calais area and its V-weapons sites, the Germans did not transfer troops from there until they had determined that the Allied divisions which they believed were being held for a landing at Pas de Calais were fighting in Normandy.

Jodl's account as given by the intelligence officer continued:

Ten days after the Normandy landings, the Germans realized they couldn't shove the Allies back into the sea without more mobile reserves, and it was then that they rushed the Second SS Corps, consisting of the Ninth and Tenth SS panzer divisions, to the west despite the sore need for them still on the eastern front.

All members of the German high command had thought the invasion could be repulsed, but Jodl personally was not satisfied with the number of reserve German divisions in France, Jodl, who spent 10½ years in the high command, was the chief planner in that organization, the Allied officer said, and was a close adviser to Hitler on wartime strategic and tactical problems.

Santiago, Chile, June 21 (AP)—Braden Copper company said today a total of 383 persons perished in a fire inside its great Teniente copper mine at Sewell. There was a possibility the count would rise when rescuers reach the last recesses of the mine.

Nine Divisions Picked
For Occupation Army;
Eleven Return to U.S.

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR

Paris, June 21 (AP)—Assignments of 23 of the 61 American divisions under Gen. Eisenhower's command at the end of the war in Europe have been decided, leaving 38 with their future status unannounced, supreme headquarters said today.

Nine divisions have been given occupational roles.

Eleven have been selected for return to the United States (in the movement of combat forces for the Pacific war).

Three have drawn rear echelon chores.

The latest to be earmarked for occupation duty are the 42nd and 65th Infantry Divisions, which will take over northwestern Austria as long as military control there is necessary, it was learned at headquarters. The American zone in Austria presumably will come under Gen. Mark W. Clark.

In Germany the U. S. Third and Seventh Armies, which ultimately will control the American zone of occupation, will have at least six divisions apportioned evenly between them. They will operate directly under army headquarters, with no corps organizations.

Gen. Patton's Third Army, under present plans, will have the

Eastern Front Drained

Jodl's account as given by the intelligence officer continued:

Ten days after the Normandy landings, the Germans realized they couldn't shove the Allies back into the sea without more mobile reserves, and it was then that they rushed the Second SS Corps, consisting of the Ninth and Tenth SS panzer divisions, to the west despite the sore need for them still on the eastern front.

First and Ninth Infantry and Fourth Armored Divisions.

Lt. Gen. Wade H. Haislip's Seventh Army will have the 21st and 36th Infantry and the First Armored Division.

The 82nd Airborne Division is expected to garrison the American zone in Berlin. The 29th Infantry Division will remain in its present location, the Bremen port area.

The 28th Infantry Division is in the Rhenish Palatinate, which may be assigned to French control. In that case, the 28th would be redeployed.

The 66th Division has been assigned to operate the Marseille staging area from which some

MEAT SITUATION
TO GET BETTERTruman Forecasts Single
Control Over Prices
And Foods

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Olympia, Wash., June 21 (AP)—President Truman promised improvement in the meat situation and forecast a single control over prices and food at a press conference today, his first outside the White House. After the conference he embarked on a salmon fishing trip.

At the press conference the president also:

Expressed confidence the senate would ratify the Bretton Woods world monetary agreements and gratification over its approval of legislation to extend the reciprocal trade program;

Termed General Eisenhower a grand gentleman who is entitled to anything he wants, and asserted the president would see that he gets it;

Told reporters the San Francisco United Nations conference seems to have accomplished its purpose and that he would leave by plane Monday to address its closing session Tuesday, after stopping off in Portland, Ore.;

Assured questioners he had no plans for lowering the age for discharging soldiers, adding that it is a matter strictly for the military; and the president came out flatly in favor of postwar completion of the Alaska highway in cooperation with Canada and British Columbia government.

Odd-Lot Footwear

Going Ration-Free

Washington, June 21 (AP)—About 4,500,000 pairs of men's and women's odd-lot shoes will be sold ration-free at mark-down prices from July 9 through 28.

Authorizing this today, OPA said prices must be cut at least 25 per cent under those of June 1.

The agency estimated that about 1,400,000 pairs of men's shoes and about 3,100,000 pairs of women's will be released.

BIG BOMBERS
HIT 3 TIMES
IN FIVE DAYSLAST TOKYO FLEET
SUPPLY PORT IS WRECKED

BY ROBBIN COONS

Guam, Friday, June 22 (AP)—Japan's best remaining naval arsenal and five big aircraft factories on Honshu island were attacked with high-explosive bombs by 450 American Superfortresses in daylight today in the third blow against the enemy homeland in five days.

The B-29s, flying in clear weather without fighter escort, dropped high explosives in visual-bombing attacks on objectives which included:

The Kure naval arsenal at Kure, the Mitsubishi and Kawasaki aircraft plants at Kayamigahara, 20 miles north of Nagoya, the Kawasaki aircraft plant at Himeji, and the Kawasaki aircraft plant at Akashi, both in the Kobe area; and the Mitsubishi-Mishima aircraft factory at Tamashima, 90 miles west of Kobe.

Hirosaki Demolished

Marking further intensification of demolition raids on specific strategic targets feeding Japan's war-making potential, today's strikes added to damage inflicted Monday on four fire-bombed towns and Wednesday on three more.

More than nine square miles of new damage to Japanese urban industrial areas was inflicted by recent B-29 attacks to increase total destruction to Japanese cities to 112 square miles, the 21st Bomber Command announced.

The Superforts separated into several attack formations and bombed from medium altitude.

Many of the Superforts concentrated on the Kure arsenal, one of the enemy navy's principal supply sources.

The Hirosaki arsenal already had been virtually demolished in a Superfort attack May 5. That left Kure the only good arsenal remaining. It covers an area of 3,600 by 3,000 feet and is two miles west of Kure port on the peninsula forming the south side of Kure harbor.

Guns up to 16 inches, projectiles, fuses, propellants and torpedoes are among its products.

The Mitsubishi and Kawasaki aircraft plants at Kayamigahara are only 1,300 feet apart. Mitsubishi is devoted to aircraft assembly and the larger Kawasaki assembles "Tonys" and twin-engine "Lily" bombers.

Four Cities Ablaze

The Kawasaki plant had an area of 15,000,000 square feet.

The Kawanishi factory at Himeji, formerly a textile mill but now devoted to assembling single-engine navy fighters, had a 2,000,000 square foot area.

Superior, Wis., June 21 (AP)—Reports of a grey globe hovering ominously over this city today brought all security forces to the ready and sent hundreds of persons to the streets to see the "Japanese balloon."

The Prof. E. H. Schrieber, head of the science department at Superior State Teachers' college, reported he had fixed the school's telescope on the cause of the disturbance.

"There is no immediate danger," he said, "since the planet Venus, now a morning star, is at present approximately 30 million miles from town."

Sales Of E Bonds

Detroit, June 21 (AP)—Purchases of "E" bonds in the Seventh War Loan drive lagged tonight in Michigan.

ORE GOES TO WAR

New York, June 21 (AP)—From the time Pearl Harbor was attacked until Germany was defeated the iron and steel industry of the United States consumed approximately 375,000,000 tons of iron ore, 187,000,000 tons of coke and 155,000,000 tons of scrap.

Heretofore, they have been restricted to loans of 50 per cent of the appraised value.

Vinegar Joe
To Command
Tenth Army

Manila, June 21 (AP)—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, who took a beating from the Japanese in 1942 in Burma and returned to thrash them in 1944, is the new commander of the U. S. 10th army, conqueror of Okinawa, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

MacArthur, commander of all army forces in the Pacific, appointed the 63-year old general as "Vinegar Joe" to the 10th army post in succession to Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., who was killed in action on Okinawa last Monday.

Stilwell has been conferring with various Pacific commanders the past few weeks in his capacity as chief of army ground forces. He visited Okinawa before Buckner's death and recently came to Manila.

Territory Won Back

It was believed that Stilwell would assume his new command soon, relieving Marine Lt. Gen. Roy S. Geiger who is temporarily directing the 10th in Okinawa mop-up operations.

With a small command, Stilwell faced the Japanese in Burma in 1942, when the Nipponese were sweeping away all opposition. The peppy American officer frankly admitted that "we took a hell of a beating."

But he went back later with Yanks and American-trained Chinese to clean the enemy out of northern Burma wilds and win back territory through which the Stilwell road was cut to bring supplies to China.

Stilwell was commander in chief of American ground forces in China and military adviser to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek at the time he was recalled home by President Roosevelt. Subsequently he was appointed chief of U. S. army ground forces.

After viewing the fighting on Okinawa Stilwell praised the morale and fighting ability of American forces. But he reiterated his opinion that the Japanese were far from beaten and would have to be conquered on the China mainland as well as on Nippon's home islands.

GUERRILLAS AID
LUZON CLEANUPProvince Capital Freed;
Long Grind Continues
On Mindanao

Manila, Friday, June 22 (AP)—Filipino guerrillas have captured the Cagayan province capital of Tuguegarao, 50 airline miles south of the Luzon north coastal port of Aparri, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today as the U. S. 37th Infantry Division mopped up around Ilagan and destroyed eight Japanese flame-throwing tanks.

Tuguegarao is the second provincial capital in northern Luzon to be liberated in as many days. The 37th Division already had taken Ilagan, capital of Isabela province, and some 35 miles south of Tuguegarao.

The guerrillas seized large quantities of food and ammunition, MacArthur reported. Resistance there was described as scattered, with the Japanese apparently fleeing northward through the Cagayan valley toward the doubtful sanctuary of Aparri port.

The Borneo campaign progressed and the northern Luzon cleanup was being hastened by the guerrillas and regular army troops, the long, grinding drive on the southeastern Philippine island of Mindanao continued without notable developments.

MacArthur reported that two American planes were lost in attacks on enemy defenses on Mindanao, which were hit with 254 tons of bombs.

On Borneo, where Australian troops have been operating since June 10, MacArthur announced that units of the Australian Ninth Division had made an unopposed hop down the coast, landing at Lutong, refinery center for the Seria and Miri oil fields about 80 miles southwest of their first landing at Brunel Bay.

LOAN LIMIT RAISED

Washington, June 21 (AP)—The senate passed and sent to the White House today legislation allowing federal land banks to make loans up to 65 per cent of the appraised value of the land mortgaged. Heretofore, they have been restricted to loans of 50 per cent of the appraised value.

WORLD FORUM WILL HELP TO
INSURE PEACECOMPLETE CHARTER
TO BE SIGNED
MONDAY

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

San Francisco, June 21 (AP)—The United Nations conference fitted into place the last details of a charter for a world-peace keeping organization today and Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Connally (D-Tex) arranged to report to the senate on it next Thursday and Friday.

Secretary of State Stettinius, beaming with pleasure, told a news conference that everything is now ready for the eight-hour signing ceremony to start late Monday.

The next day President Truman will make his formal address to the closing session. Present plans are for Mr. Truman to carry the charter back with him to Washington.

Prompt Action Urged

But if he does not go directly back, then Senator Connally will take the charter for unofficial presentation to the senate on Thursday, at which the Texan plans to make a general report to the senate.

Senator Vandenberg plans to supply a detailed report on the conference to the senate on Friday. Senate ratification is necessary for the United States to participate, and Mr. Truman has urged that it come promptly—if possible, before his summer meeting with Prime Minister Churchill and Marshall Stalin.

However, blocking the chance of such speedy action is the fact that about two weeks are expected to be needed to compile reports and minutes for consideration by the senate foreign relations committee. Connally is head of this committee. Also congress is reported set for a summer vacation.

Text Finished

Stettinius said that the text of the charter was finally finished at 4 a. m. (PWT) today and that he showed it for the first time to all the other delegation heads at a steering committee meeting late today.

The secretary of state also reported officially—it had long been said unofficially—that the commission which will bridge the gap between the conference and the first meeting of the world organization will meet in London this summer. There will be fourteen members of the interim commission.

Representatives of all 50 United Nations will meet here in a post-conference session on Wednesday, to go over plans for the London sessions.

The final action at the charter-working stage came today in unanimous approval by a conference commission of plans for a world forum. Delegates then settled back to wait for Tuesday.

Over 60,000 Idle
In Labor Disputes

(By The Associated Press)

The nationwide total of workers idle in strikes went above the 60,000 mark yesterday (Thursday) as the main plant of the Packard Motor Car Company in Detroit closed.

A further increase in the number away from work was expected to result from a threatened extension of a glass industry strike in which 6,000 Pennsylvania workers have been involved for days.

The War Labor Board chairman, George W. Taylor, called upon strikers at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, O., where 16,700 were out, to resume their production of vital war goods immediately.

At Chicago, two thousand army drivers and 3,000 military guards moved goods in a truck strike by an independent and an AFL union over a WLB wage award less than that demanded.

STANDARDS ARE
EASED BY ARMYPhysically Deferred Men
Recalled By Draft
Boards

Lansing, June 21 (AP)—State selective service headquarters today directed local draft boards to review immediately the cases of all registrants between the ages of 18 and 25 who have been deferred for physical disability to determine whether they now qualify for military service under new draft rules.

Brig. Gen. LeRoy Pearson, state selective service director, asked boards to "forward for new pre-induction physical examination those registrants in this age group whom you may have reason to believe may now qualify for military service."

Certain physical standards have been relaxed to the point where men previously rejected would now be acceptable for army service. Among the defects no longer considered cause for rejection are insufficient teeth, uncomplicated venereal disease, underweight and overweight, borderline vision, immaturity, hay fever, chronic sinusitis and flat feet.

General Pearson said registrants selected for reexamination may be forwarded for their pre-induction physical examination without changing their present classification. If they are found physically qualified for military service their cases should be reopened and reconsidered, the director declared.

Men to be re-examined will be chosen from the following classifications: 4-F, 1-A (L), 2-T (L), 2-B (L), 2-C (L), 2-A (F), 2-B (F) and 2-C (F).

Veterans discharged because of physical or mental disability, and registrants suffering from mental disorders should not be ordered for re-examination, Pearson directed.

State Pays Tribute
To Lt. Gen. Knudsen

Detroit, June 21 (AP)—It was "Knudsen Day" in Michigan today, and the state gave the one time Danish immigrant a stirring tribute.

Lt. Gen. William S. Knudsen, described by Gen. George C. Marshall as "that type of American we most admire," was acclaimed for his five years of war production work for the government.

High military and government leaders came here to aid Detroit and the state in applauding the former president of General Motors Corp.

Climaxing a ceremony at city hall and a parade along Woodward Ave., Detroit's main thoroughfare, was a presentation at Masonic Temple. Thousands had lined Woodward Avenue to cheer Lt. Gen. Knudsen, the first civilian in American history to be elevated directly to that rank, and Masonic Temple was thronged for the reception.

VITAL ISLAND

PACIFIC BASEJAPS WORRIED OVER
WHERE YANKS WILL STRIKE NEXT

By Leif Erickson

Guam, Friday, June 22. (AP)—Okinawa was captured at a cost of 6,990 soldiers and marines killed or missing and 29,598 wounded through Tuesday, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today several hours after reporting the island was secured at 1 p. m., yesterday, Okinawa time.

Japanese casualties were 90,401 through Wednesday, and more than 4,000 were taken prisoner.

With Okinawa finally secured from a military definition, "Japanese soldiers were surrendering in groups, in some cases led by their officers, and it is estimated that 1,700 were made prisoner during the day" (Thursday) Nimitz said.

Casualties Double Two

Total announced American casualties for the entire Ryukyus operation, including the carrier plane attack on a Japanese battle force hiding in the inland sea March 18, were 45,029. This included the 36,588 on Okinawa plus 8,441 navy casualties as of May 24—four weeks ago. The navy lost 4,270 killed or missing and 4,171 wounded to that date, largely through Japanese aerial attacks by Kamikaze (suicide) pilots. Several American ships have been sunk or damaged in the Okinawa area since.

American ground casualties were 4,417 dead or missing and 17,033 wounded in the four army divisions and 2,573 dead or missing and 12,565 wounded in the two divisions and one regimental combat team of marines who captured Okinawa.

Okinawa cost nearly twice Iwo Jima's toll of 19,938 killed, missing or wounded.

Since American ground casualties last were reported on May 24, the Yanks lost 1,658 killed or missing and 8,255 wounded in 26 days of fighting.

Nippon 325 Miles

The conquest put American air power within reach of every part of the Japanese empire and secured for the Pacific fleet an operating base only 325 miles from Nippon's mainland.

Soldiers and marines of the victorious army—organized for its first campaign from half a dozen battle-torn divisions—stampeded at two remaining feeble sparks of resistance. These were Japanese pockets, all that remained of a once powerfully armed, strongly fortified garrison of 90,000.

Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland, reporting from Okinawa, said that while organized resistance was ended it was still dangerous to move around alone or unarmed.

BUSY COUNCIL SESSION HELD

Refuses To Descend Its Previous Action On Building Permit

The Escanaba city council in a long and busy session last night disposed of many items of business and considered others. The meeting was highlighted by the council's refusal to rescind a building permit issued last meeting to the Coca Cola company for the post-war construction of a bottling plant.

Residents in the vicinity of South Twenty-third street and First avenue south where the plant is proposed to be built petitioned the council to withdraw its approval of the building permit, although the site is in an area zoned for commercial use.

The council held that it had acted within the law as established under the zoning ordinance adopted in 1929, and that no other action was possible than to approve the permit at the previous meeting. It agreed with Lawrence A. Gauffin of 215 South Twenty-third street and other objectors that the zoning ordinance might need revision, but pointed out that residents of the area had never previously asked for an amendment to change the classification from commercial to residential.

Sanitary Sewer

Jake Bink, secretary-treasurer of the bottling company, told the council and the objectors that the bottling plant proposed to be built after the war "will not be a discredit to the area." He said there will be no smoke nuisance, and the grounds will be landscaped.

Asked for an opinion on whether the council could rescind its action in the matter, City Attorney Denis McGinn said the council had acted in good faith in issuing the permit, that the ordinance might be amended for future construction, but it would not affect the previous action.

Other business before the council included the following:

Adopted a resolution acknowledging receipt of a petition for the construction of two blocks of sanitary sewer on Fifth avenue south to Twenty-third street, and assuming one-half the cost of construction, approximately $2,600 total.

Softball Diamond

Authorized an appropriation of not more than $516 in labor, materials and equipment to complete improvements to the softball diamond on Twenty-third street as requested by the Escanaba Softball association. The work will be done by the public works department with labor assistance from the association members.

Approved a request of the Delta County Tavern association and ordered the city attorney to draw a resolution requesting the closing of licensed drinking establishments at midnight on all nights except Saturdays, the evening of all legal holidays, conventions and special celebrations when they would remain open until 2 a. m. The earlier closing asked by the association will become effective July 1, according to John Gannon, chairman of the association's executive committee.

Heard Clyde Nelson request the city receive bids for the sale of the city-owned brewing plant property on Ludington street. Nelson told the council that if he can purchase the building he plans to establish bowling alleys and other recreation facilities there after cutting the building down to a two-story structure.

Steam Meter Charge

Set July 19 as the date for hearing objections relative to the proposed closing of a portion of the alley at the rear of the Delta Hardware company building.

Approved the placing of a street light on Fourth avenue north and Nineteenth street.

Authorized the city manager to purchase an addressograph machine for the city hall at an estimated cost of $2,100.

Approved taking bids for the sale of two city-owned lots near the S-turn on South Eighth avenue (Lots 10 and 11, Block 5, Cady Land Co. Addition).

Approved a request by Ross Gamble for permission to present a pony riding show weekends on Ludington street at Tenth avenue south.

Adopted a utility rate schedule for the fiscal year beginning July 1 without change from last year except for a service charge on steam meters. This change will start at 50 cents per month for small meters, and by brackets go to $3 per month for the largest meters.

VITAL ISLAND SECURED FOR PACIFIC BASE

banks or from ruins of bleak, shattered, silent villages, the dispatch said.

Japanese and Okinawan dead were scattered everywhere. The Americans were too busy with the living, still resisting Japanese and thousands of stunned, ragged, starved Okinawan civilians, to attend to burials.

Tokyo Jitters

Even while Nimitz was proclaiming the victory in a special Thursday communique, Tokyo radio expressed concern over what the next American thrust would come. The Japanese have reported at least two U. S. task forces already moving through the East China Sea southwest of Okinawa, with supply ships and assault boats.

In their frantic attempts to save the stepping-stone island to their homeland, the Japanese sent their kamikaze (suicide) flyers swarming in repeated attacks on the American invading force. Thousands were shot down but others succeeded in sinking at least 31 U. S. navy units of destroyer size or smaller and damaging 54 other navy ships.

The last announced total of Japanese planes shot down in connection with the campaign was 4,096. The two remaining pockets of resistance were Japanese who preferred to die fighting rather than surrender or commit suicide. They were expected to be liquidated quickly.

In addition to the 96th and 7th division soldiers, marines of the First, and Sixth divisions and the Eighth regiment of the Second division participated in the final assaults.

BY LEIF ERICKSON

Guam, Friday, June 22. (P)—Conquered Okinawa becomes an "inner position" from which the United States forces can assault either Japan or China—or both.

Okinawa is 325 miles from Japan, a little over 400 miles from China. Japan must keep her remaining forces split if they are to defend both.

The capture of Okinawa's 485 square miles capped a fast moving, six months offensive in which earlier mile stones were the bloody seizure of Iwo and reinvansion of Luzon in the Philippines.

In an official memorandum, headquarters of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz cited these four points as to Okinawa's strategic value:

1. It gives the United States a base from which to supply bomber and fighter cover for invasions either of China or Japan—or both.

2. It affords a naval base to anchorages.

3. It is a forward staging area.

4. It is important as a base for additional war attrition, in which heavy bombing and an air-sea blockade are the major weapons.

Two and Okinawa carried the war up to Japan itself.

In the warring period between Dec. 15, 1944, and June 21, 1945, American land, air and sea forces achieved a significant number of "firsts."

Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's task force 58 hit the Tokyo area Feb. 16 and 17 in the first fast carrier task force attack on Japan.

In supporting the Okinawa invasion, American carrier forces met the first sustained test against the main body of the land-based Japanese air force.

Fast carriers operated continuously in Japanese waters for three months from March 18 until shortly before Okinawa fell.

Escort carriers operated 88 days continuously from March 26 until now.

WAKE RAID CLAIMED

San Francisco, June 21. (P)—An unconfirmed report that about 300 "enemy" carrier-based planes on Wednesday raided Japanese-held Wake Island, far in the rear of action in the Pacific war, was made by the Tokyo radio today.

Wake was captured by the Japanese early in the war after a heroic stand by a little band of American Marines. The island, 2,300 miles west of Pearl Harbor, is bombed several times monthly by land-based U. S. navy carrier planes or privateers. It has not been officially reported raided by American carrier aircraft, however, since last September 3.

Today's Tokyo report, recorded by the FCC, said the attacking planes "are supposed to have taken off from more than two enemy carriers."

A Domei News Agency broadcast said the raiders attacked in "several waves" and were "successfully hurled back."

Another broadcast reported an air fleet of 56 planes scouted southern Japan for two hours early today, apparently in preparation for new attacks on that area of the homeland.

000-square-foot area devoted to aircraft.

The Kawasaki plant at Akashi had been struck twice before by Superfortresses. It was reported 38 per cent destroyed by the initial attack on Jan. 19 but was rebuilt. The second blow, on June 9, was through clouds and is believed to have done small damage.

The Mitsubishi-Mishima plant, 65 miles west of Himeji near Tamashima town, produced twin-engine "Betty" bombers in an area of 3,500,000 square feet.

Today's raids were the third strike this week on Japanese industry. On Wednesday about 450 Superforts hit Shizuoka and Toyohashi on Honshu and Fukuoka on Kyushu with fire bombs.

On Monday four Japanese cities were fire-bombed by 450 Superforts. They were the secondary industrial areas of Omuta and Kagoshima on Kyushu and Hamamatsu and Yokkaichi on Honshu.

troops will be shipped directly to the Pacific.

The 75th Division will operate an assembly area command where troops are processed for redeployment. The 106th Division, presently the worst mauled in the Pacific, will guard the Ardenne offensive, will guard German prisoners remaining in American hands.

Divisions being returned to the United States for transfer to the Pacific are the Second, Fifth, 44th, 86th, 87th, 95th and 104th Infantry and the 13th Armored.

The Fourth and Eighth Infantry Divisions also are returning home, but whether they will go to the Pacific has not been announced.

RATION CUTS HURT BAKERS

More Shortages Plague Housewives; Potato Chips Scarce

Reduced sugar allotments to bakers and other industrial users will result in reduction in commercial baked products, it has been indicated. The slash in sugar rations applies for the three month period beginning July 1. Beverage bottlers also have been hit by reduced sugar quotas.

Simultaneous with the reduction in sugar quotas is a scarcity of shortening, which adds further woes to bakers.

The shortage of cooking oils will force one Escanaba product, Eli's Potato Chips, off the market entirely during the month of July, it has been indicated by Eli Sayen, proprietor.

The shortage of cooking oils became acute two weeks ago and the potato chip production was halted most of last week, but was resumed again this week. No oils will be available during July, however, necessitating a complete halt in production for this period.

In the meantime, Sayen has been selling his supply of potatoes, a commodity which also is currently scarce in Escanaba.

Several stores have been limiting potato sales to five pounds per customer, because of reduced supplies.

And, of course, there's still the meat shortage to haunt the housewife—and the cigarette shortage to plague the smoker.

One commodity, scarce during wartime months, is making a comeback. It's the paper book matches which all but disappeared from counters. Matchbooks are being produced again and although the supply is still below prewar days, increasing numbers are finding their way into the markets.

He asserted the army of occupation would have to remain in the Reich for an estimated six to ten years because Nazism, he said, was not dead.

WAKE RAID CLAIMED

San Francisco, June 21. (P)—An unconfirmed report that about 300 "enemy" carrier-based planes on Wednesday raided Japanese-held Wake Island, far in the rear of action in the Pacific war, was made by the Tokyo radio today.

Wake was captured by the Japanese early in the war after a heroic stand by a little band of American Marines. The island, 2,300 miles west of Pearl Harbor, is bombed several times monthly by land-based U. S. navy carrier planes or privateers. It has not been officially reported raided by American carrier aircraft, however, since last September 3.

Today's Tokyo report, recorded by the FCC, said the attacking planes "are supposed to have taken off from more than two enemy carriers."

A Domei News Agency broadcast said the raiders attacked in "several waves" and were "successfully hurled back."

Another broadcast reported an air fleet of 56 planes scouted southern Japan for two hours early today, apparently in preparation for new attacks on that area of the homeland.

Had Guilty Consciences

LIKE the gangsters who were tough guys when they had guns in their hands, the Nazi leaders of Germany were riding high while they had the armed might to make weaker peoples submit to their will. But now that they have been defeated on the battlefield, the German supermen are revealing themselves to be the cowards they always have been.

Gestapo Chief Himmler, Tyrol Gauleiter Hofer and many other tough Nazis have taken the coward's way out of their dilemma once they were trapped. Their guilty consciences would not permit them to stand trial so that justice could be meted out to them. So, they killed themselves.

And now, the great Fuehrer, himself, is revealed as a mere coward who also committed suicide to avoid taking the rap. Propaganda Minister Goebbels who distributed much mental poison over the air waves and through other propaganda media is reported to have finally taken a dose of the real stuff.

If future generations of Germans want to create legendary heroes they will find no suitable material during the Nazi period of their history. They will have to go back to some period when men were men, not dirty rats and were wolves.

Some Sound Advice

AS THE food situation grows more critical, it must be obvious to everyone that Herbert Hoover hit the nail squarely on the head when he declared that federal food controls have broken down and that sweeping changes must be made to prevent chaos.

As an example of the lame-brained theories that are to a considerable extent responsible for the current food situation, study the butter control program. The government pays a direct subsidy of five cents a pound in the hope of encouraging butter production and then tacks on a 24 red point value which makes it all but impossible for the average consumer to purchase the butter.

Fluid milk is another case in point. Ceilings established by the government are designed to encourage production of cheese, with the result that an unusually heavy proportion of the milk produced goes to cheese manufacturers, who in turn sell a substantial portion of it to fluid milk dealers at prices the milk dealers are prohibited from paying the dairy farmer. It is an undeniable fact that unless this method of circumventing the regulations was in general effect in the Upper Peninsula, there would be a shocking shortage of fluid milk and a ridiculous abundance of cheese.

No man in America knows more about food control than Herbert Hoover and the government bureaucrats who have bungled the food problem so thoroughly in this war will do well to sit up and take notice of the broad changes recommended by the man who handled the food situation so adroitly in World War I.

The kind of thinking that we have had thus far from those charged with the responsibility of maintaining adequate food supplies is certainly not going to solve a problem that is growing worse rapidly.

In the Spotlight

THE old saying that generals always die in bed no longer holds true in World War II.

No small number of top ranking officers of the Allied armies met death by enemy action on the battlefields of Europe. More recently, we have been reminded by events in the Pacific theater that they share the dangers of war with the doughboys and gobs.

On Monday, Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, commander of the 10th Army, was killed by Japanese shellfire on Okinawa, and on the next day Brig. Gen. Claudius M. Easley also met death in the bitter fighting to wrest control of the vital island from the Japs. High naval officers have not been spared, for no small number have gone down with their ships since the beginning of the war.

By an odd trick of fate, General Buckner met his death just a few days before the ending of Japanese resistance on Okinawa, a victory for which the commander of the 10th Army deserved much credit. The veteran infantry officer won the deep affection of the GI-Joes who fought under him. The ferocity with which they fought in the closing days of the Okinawa campaign doubtless was induced by a desire to avenge the death of their beloved leader.

They're Not Spared

MACKINAC ISLAND is getting national publicity as the meeting place of the governors of the 48 states of the Union the first week in July. Interest in the event has been accentuated recently by the announcement that President Truman will visit the historic island between the two peninsulas of Michigan during the conference. The first week in July is not usually a busy period in the tourist industry in the Upper Peninsula, but there will be much business activity at the Straits of Mackinac this season. Mackinac Island's hotels and cottages will be crowded during the governors' conference, and the accompanying publicity should be helpful in keeping the tourists coming the rest of the season. This is all to the good. Successful operation of Mackinac Island means that it will continue to serve as an attraction that will draw tourists to this section of the country.

Where's the Bottle?

IT SEEMS that contemplation of wonderful postwar things to come may divert us from our present necessary duties. In fact, the nation's dairymen and bottlemakers tell us that it's already happening. In the prosaic matter of milk bottles. And they're worried.

Maybe we've been reading too much about those post-V-J-Day square milk bottles, or the beer bottles the dealer won't want back. At any rate, the milk and bottle people estimate that Americans are holding out some 25,000,000 bottles in kitchens and behind store counters.

That's bad, for several reasons. One thing, the War Food Administration says that we the people are using 25 per cent more milk than before the war. That takes bottles. And this is the time of year for Bessie's big milk dividend. That takes bottles, too.

Besides, the life of the average milk bottle is only about 40 trips from dairy to customer. Furthermore, distributors need eight bottles in the works for every one in your ice box to keep things running smoothly for daily deliveries, and a 10-to-1 ratio on an every-other-day schedule.

That's why the country's purveyors of Grade A are crying, "If you've got 'em, back!" And they aren't fooling, either.

THE CLOTHING SCANDAL (Detroit Free Press)

The incredulity, disgust and anger with which Detroiters learned of the treatment accorded clothing contributed locally to UNRRA's drive needs no laboring here.

The pictures and the story we published yesterday were evidence enough for anyone with eyes to see with and minds to understand.

Nor does it help much to speak now of blame. The damage is done.

The campaign seems to have suffered from an abundance of volunteer enthusiasm and not a fraction enough of official foresight. The record shows that generous Detroit, pouring out its gifts for destitute war victims in wholly unexpected volume, swamped the meager facilities marshaled by UNRRA. What was everybody's business quickly degenerated into nobody's business.

We are, however, very much concerned about what happens next.

The 10,000,000 pounds of clothing are under Government stewardship. The responsibility is the Government's. If UNRRA locally hasn't the means for proper protection, storage and shipment, they must be procured with all celerity.

The sorry situation calls for emergency improvisation. Not since the aluminum drive both has Detroit seen a grosser example of public generosity turned sour by official bungling.

When captured, Ribbentrop said he was "on a mission from the dead Fuehrer." We suggest he be allowed to go where he can report back to Hitler.

The rat Nazis could be established by checking their finger-prints with those on thousands of civilian throats.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH
Q. Is there any established rule for the use of "kind of" and "sort of"?

A. In good usage, kind of and sort of are not followed by the article "a."

Wrong: "It was a kind of a precious stone."

Right: It was a kind of precious stone.

Wrong: "I dislike that sort of a person."

Right: I dislike that sort of person.

Wrong: "That type of dress (or: type dress) is flattering."

Also note that kind, sort and type, being singular nouns, should not be used with such plurals as "these" and "those."

Wrong: "I prefer these kind of flowers."

Right: I prefer this kind of flower.

Wrong: "I dislike those sort of persons."

Right: I dislike that sort of person.

Q. I wouldn't believe it if I hadn't seen it with my own eyes—this slogan carried at the top of the front page of a California newspaper: "Make the Peace Permanent!" How come, Pancho?

A. This country for some time has been in the midst of an epidemic of adverbs. It appears to be impossible to shout down such absurdities as "Don't feel badly about it; she looks badly today; the planes arrived safely; Guam is securely in our hands," etc.

But "Make the Peace Permanent!" is the one that gets the bobby prize.

When I showed the clipping to my chief syntactician, Dr. Eliaon Shrdlu, the good doctor was so shocked that he had to take the rest of the day off. His heart, you know.

Since adverbs must modify verbs and never nouns, the sentence has this meaning: "Keep on making the peace forever." The world is not interested in permanently making the peace. What all nations cry aloud for is peace that is permanent.

Therefore, the slogan can be correct only if worded thus: Make the Peace Permanent!

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—President Truman has said as emphatically as possible that he wants the fair employment practices committee set up as a continuing government agency. He said he staked not a little of his political prestige on this issue.

Unless it happened to touch them directly, most people have been unaware of the work of the committee during the war. It has been a kind of cushion to offset some of the tension growing out of the vast migration of peoples of every race and color into America's great centers of war production.

Above all, it was an outlet for the victims of racial discrimination for those who felt they had been discriminated against. They could make a complaint to one of the regional offices of the FEPC, and that complaint was carefully investigated.

—HAS LIMITED AUTHORITY—

If the complaint was a real one, then FEPC went to the employer to point out that under the terms of his war contract he had no right to discriminate against anyone in giving employment. In all but a very few cases, this was sufficient to correct the situation.

The committee had only limited authority. As a last resort it could cite a case to the White House, and presumably the President, under his war powers, could compel the employer to comply.

Although both AFL and CIO have endorsed the work of FEPC, the committee has had complaints involving unions. The most conspicuous case of this type concerned the Boilermakers union in West Coast shipyards. Negroes were admitted to what was, in effect, only second class membership in the union and denied full status.

From many sources has come testimony as to the value of FEPC. Instances of serious racial strife have been few, in spite of the fact that this country has never seen anything like the mingling of peoples in work and in living that came with the war. FEPC has been there as a kind of lightning rod to help settle the grievances that could grow into violence.

Now, both in the House and the Senate, enemies of FEPC are trying to kill it by cutting off the appropriation. They are doing this in closed session, because they know that if it ever came to a vote on the floor FEPC would undoubtedly get a majority in both houses.

—BIG TEST TO COME—

No one could argue that the need for the committee is ended. In fact, the biggest test is still to come.

Thousands of Negro workers have migrated to West Coast cities. Portland, Oregon, is an example. More than 25,000 Negroes are employed in shipyards there.

Vancouver, Wash., is another example. Before the war, not more than a dozen Negroes lived in Vancouver. When I was there last fall, they told me the Negro population was over 5,000. The fact is, of course, that ship building records could never have been set without these new workers.

Polls taken among the newcomers on the Pacific coast show that a majority would like to stay where they are. And the West Coast is not the only area affected, by any means.

Testifying before a house appropriations committee, Chairman Malcolm Ross of FEPC reported that during the five years from 1940 to 1945, the south had had a net loss of a half million Negroes who had gone to the industrial centers in the north and the west.

"Experience in World War I," Ross said, "Shows that most of these people will stay. After World War I their cousins, sisters and aunts kept coming. There were a million Negroes, net, coming into the north during the '20s and even during the depression years. If government had never lifted a finger in this matter, those situations would exist."

As shipyards are shut down and industrial production is cut back, the fight for jobs will be intense. In 1919 there were 26 race riots. They grew, directly or indirectly, out of a similar struggle for jobs. FEPC can't establish peace and harmony by fist, but it can help a lot.

A fair employment practices commission would not end racial strife in this country. That cannot be done by law. It can only come through education. But such a commission would be part of our education.

FEPC expires June 30 unless committee bottlenecks in house and senate are broken. If they are broken, then a record vote will show FEPC approved.

Gracie Allen Says--

Well, we Americans have always been a Nation of souvenir hunters and this war has proved no exception. A few days ago, General Patch presented the President with Herman Goering's diamond-studded baton, and now "Iron Mike" O'Daniel says he has Hermann's trousers hanging on the wall of his division headquarters. From the pictures I've seen of Marshal Goering, his trousers could make a divisional headquarters all by themselves.

As an old collector himself, Goering probably feels unhappy. But his friend Hitler came out even worse. Hitler started by collecting most of the small countries of Europe. Then he went after the big Russian Bear-Skin and the Bear collected him.

Now Admiral Halsey says he wants Hirohito's horse. Personally if I were in Hirohito's place, I'd mail him the horse before the Admiral decides to collect Hirohito, too.

HOOP SKIRTS — This, the fourth column in a series on early days at Flat Rock on the Escanaba river in Delta county, continues from the manuscript by Mrs. George Jensen of Escanaba. The information was obtained from Mrs. two sisters of the William Lehman family, pioneer Flat Rock residents, who died in Menominee in 1940. The period covered is from 1859 to 1863.

woods. These were sewn into their skirts, the girls arriving home in this finery as proud as peacocks.

"An early sports incident is recalled when in the winter of 1860 Oscar Anderson, a young man of Swedish nationality, went skiing down the Park hill and sliding right across the river.

POUND FISHERMEN — "Nate Sanders and brother, Jack, from the state of Maine arrived in Flat Rock in 1860.

"They became Delta county's first pound net fishermen.

"Making and setting a 12-foot pound net near the mouth of the Escanaba river they caught so many whitefish, sturgeon, pike and trout that the net could not be kept empty.

The fish were cleaned and salted, packed in half barrels. The Sander brothers made some of their own barrels.

"Sometimes after work hours on the short fall days the mill hands would help dress the fish.

"Nate Sanders was the owner of the two-masted sloop or sailing vessel named The Union and with this ship usually made two or three trips to Chicago in the fall to market the fish.

SAILING RACE—"At a later date, in an early dare-devil race on Lake Michigan with a larger three-masted vessel which could out sail him, he capsized and sank his ship, The Union sailed right under.

"The other ship's crew saved the Union men with exception of the cook, who was asleep in his bunk and he went down with the ship.

"Nate Sanders became one of the county's well-to-do fishermen, operating a number of fishing stations with crews and equipment along the shores of Menominee and Delta counties.

"One of these places was McMullen's island outside of Kipling. This island had a fine deep harbor.

"Mr. Sanders is also said to have named Squaw creek.

"In the early 1860's he built the large two-story frame home on the Ford River lake shore road, known as the Fishery and now owned by the Weissert family. This home had a limestone foundation as was well built throughout.

"Here also on the lake front were docks and fish shanties, from which he operated a large steam tug and used many pond nets. After a time he again moved his men and equipment, this time to Fairport, Delta county. At this place he built a large freezer where fish were frozen and marketed in this manner.

FISH NEAR MENOMINEE — "Nate and Jack Sanders also kept a fishing place nine miles north of Menominee. One Mr. Boswell had charge here and nine men were employed. To this place young George Sanders, a brother, came from the East in 1863 and here he learned the fishing trade.

"Deep pond nets were used but when the catches of whitefish

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1935

The colonists at the colony set up in Alaska continued to complain about the treatment they had received and many of them have become so disgusted that they have left for the states. However leaders of the movement in Congress say that the difficulties have been greatly overemphasized and that the settlers, who were on relief before, are much more fortunate than they were before they moved.

M. R. Keyworth who was about to take office as state superintendent of public instruction was killed in an automobile accident while driving from Manistiquie where he had made a commencement address.

More than one hundred and twenty-five high school musicians have been asked to take part in a band which will be featured at the Escanaba State Fair. The band will be under the direction of R. P. Bowers, director of music at the high school here. Those who will take part will represent sixteen towns in the peninsula.

went as low as 12 packages (half barrels) per day, they quit fishing as it did not pay.

"A few other kinds of fish were salted and packed. The sloop The Union also picked up this catch for the Chicago markets.

"Mary Lehman as a young girl went there to help Mrs. Boswell during the nine weeks fall white fish season. A part of her duties was to read to Mrs. Boswell, who taught her how to pronounce the words correctly and in this way she gained practice as a good reader.

STURGEON DISCARDED—"At this time there was absolutely no sale for Sturgeon and Mary recalls having seen as many as 300 great ones, some of which weighed as much as 150 pounds, thrown away on the waste pile.

"However, a market later was created for these fish by an enterprising fish merchant who hired men to go the rounds of the restaurants in Chicago and Milwaukee asking for smoked Sturgeon.

DESCRIBE SAW MILL—"The Ludington company water power saw mill (at Flat Rock) was built from the west bank and part way across the Escanaba river, connecting with a boom walk made two logs in width and fastened together with a chain. This walk had board planks on top and kept the logs from going over the dam.

"This was the only bridge across the river and cattle were required to swim across. Work hours in the mill were from 5 a. m. until dark. The men having an hour off at breakfast, noon and supper time.

"The lumber and timber products were poled, that is pushed down the river to the waiting vessels anchored a distance from shore. Ropes were fastened from vessels to shore and, in this way, the saws were pulled out by hand and unloaded.

"Logging camps were located from 30 to 50 miles up the Escanaba river, the lumberjacks getting up for work at 3 o'clock in the morning."

The Lyons Den

By Leonard Lyons

(Leonard Lyons is in Europe. His guest columnist today is Capt. John Patrick, A. F. S., author of the hit play, "The Hasty Heart.")

JOHN PATRICK IN THE LYONS DEN

An similarity in the style of this column and that usually conducted here by Sahib Leonard Lyons is purely malicious. I like the following stories:

Louis B. Mayer, who twists the tail of the MGM lion, attended a Hollywood preview of one of his studio pictures. There was the usual sidewalk conference afterwards. And the usual number of bird-brains pointed out what was wrong with the picture. After each authority, from gateman to prop-boy, had expressed his pessimistic opinion, the poor little man who had produced the picture spoke up.

"But," he pointed out to the dissenters, "the audience liked it."

Mr. Mayer whirled on him. "Are we going to let them get away with that?" he said.

Something my limited intelligence has never been able to grasp: Why does the last vehicle in a motor convoy have to travel much faster than the lead car?

I like the following remarks but can't recall who said most of them: The reply of the little girl who was given ginger ale to drink for the first time. "It tastes like my foot's asleep," she said . . . Also, the astringent: "She is the only star on Broadway of whom it can be truthfully said success has not changed her—more's the pity."

Here's the ideal albeit ambiguous compliment one flounders for back-stage after an opening night. A woman rushed up to Mady Christian's dressing room, embraced her and pointed out toward the audience. "My Lambs-lettuce!" she gushed. "You've no idea what it was like—to be out there."

And the remark I overheard last week in front of a picture theatre: A minute-of-a-mother, frail and white-haired, was talking to her brassy six-foot-four sergeant son. "You get me dressed and drag me all the way downtown," she said, "and then we can't get in. I ought to bust you in the mouth."

. . . The reply of Mark Hanna, who guides Helen Hayes, Quentin Reynolds, Maj. Luke Davis and others through the clauses of radio contracts, to the question, "Are you drinking, Mark?" "No," he said, from the lower rung of a hangover, "I'm freezing it and eating it."

And the observation of Mrs. Fredric March to friends who were discussing an elderly theatre man interested in a rather emaciated girl many summers younger. "He's simply a necrophile who's too lazy to dig."

The answer of a girl on the train to her mother's remark, "Isn't the land lovely?" "Nothing is lovely alone," she said.

Before Katharine Cornell took "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" overseas to the GIs, the famous portrait of her by Spenser belonging in the permanent collection of the Museum of Modern Art was part of an exhibit sent to South America. She began to get voluminous and enthusiastic mail from the Latin-Americans. She was flattered and puzzled in equal proportions until the Spanish catalogue was sent her and the type-setter's mistake translated. Under a reproduction of a pink nude, seductively straddling a kitchen chair, was printed: "A portrait of Miss Katharine Cornell as she appeared in New York City as Candida."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Plenty of publicity was given the fact that the Russians had barred the Allies from entering the city of Vienna, but it was kept very hush-hush when an Anglo-American-French mission finally did enter Vienna on June 3.

Under the Yalta agreement, the United States and Britain were supposed to send military missions into Vienna, but during the height of the Polish trouble, when US-USSR relations were strained, the Russians had taken all the Viennese airports and wouldn't let us land.

When the western Allies finally arrived in Vienna on June 3, things didn't go too well. There were some unpleasant differences with the Soviet commander as to whether they could inspect all the city. He contended that the Yalta agreement permitted the western Allies access only to the city of Vienna, which includes one airport.

The western Allies, on the other hand, contended that Yalta permitted them access to "Vienna Grau" or greater Vienna, including the region around the city proper and all airports.

In the end, the Russians yielded, permitting the western Allies to inspect everything. The French-British-American military found that the Russians were acting reasonably in Austria, and it has now been agreed that the Anglo-American occupation will extend to the west bank of the Danube, while the Russian occupation will control the east bank.

The western Allies' representative left Vienna June 11 to report to SHAEF. It looks as if another hurdle in relations with Russia had been ironed out. A bad situation is still boiling in Bulgaria, however.

—BASEBALL AND UNITED NATIONS—

In San Francisco, a delegation of Philadelphians called on Australia's external affairs minister Herbert Evatt to ask that the city of brotherly love founded by William Penn become the seat of the United Nations in the future.

Dr. Evatt listened carefully. Then he replied:

"I can't vote for Philadelphia until the Phillies get out of the cellar. I'm afraid it would give the United Nations a defeatist attitude if both Philadelphia baseball teams were at the bottom of their leagues."

—CAPITAL CHAFF—

Henry Kaiser, he big boat-builder, is getting together with Colorado Iron and Fuel to take over the government-owned steel plant at Geneva, Utah. U. S. Steel and Wall Street have discouraged the project, contending steel can't be made economically on the west coast. However, Kaiser is determined to try, believes the west is potentially one of the great markets of the world and can supply its own goods . . . New Hampshire's one-time isolationist Senator Tobey has got religion. He is so anxious to avoid another war that he has become one of the most ardent advocates of international cooperation. Tobey even blasted (indirectly) his old friend and colleague, ex-Senator Danaher of Connecticut, who, while an executive of the Republican National Committee, used his position as ex-Senator to go on the Senate floor and lobby against the reciprocal trade agreements act . . . A strong move is underway to make ex-Senator Guy Gillette of Iowa, retiring head of

Red Cross Prepared To Direct Veterans In Use of Benefits

Incomplete information has led some discharged servicemen to believe that the only occasion for contacting the local Red Cross chapter is at the time of personal or family financial need, G. Z. Flanders, home service chairman, announced today.

"The home service department of the Delta County Red Cross chapter is prepared not only to give financial help to the needy disabled veteran and his family pending claims settlement, but is also ready to advise him on numerous other problems involving his readjustment to civilian life," Flanders said. "The veteran discharged for other than medical reasons is equally welcome to our counseling service," he added.

While Red Cross, according to Flanders has nothing to do with the administration of such benefits under the "GI Bill of Rights" as reemployment, vocational rehabilitation and education, its home service department is in a position to give information on these provisions and to refer the veteran to the proper administering agency for further consultation. Help in evaluating benefits when there is a choice to be made is an important part of this service.

"It is our feeling that one of the chief problems of the World War II veteran is to gain perspective on the various benefits in relation to his own and his family's long-term interests," Flanders continued. "It is highly important for the veteran to have some agency, whether it is Red Cross or another, to help him weigh his decisions on such important matters against a background of complete and authentic information."

Flanders called attention to the well-established Red Cross service of assisting veterans in the processing of claims. Disabled veterans who give Red Cross power of attorney in this connection are assured of personal representation of their claims before rating boards by field directors stationed at all Veterans Administration regional offices, it was pointed out.

Escanaba Soldier Rests Set Up New Rest Camp In Italy

With the Fifth Army, Italy—Sgt. Stephen D. Greene, Escanaba, Mich., and 20 other members of the 3133rd Signal Service company recently set up a rest camp for the recreation and relaxation of troops from all signal units of Fifth Army in Italy.

The camp is on the shore of Lake Garda, Italy's largest lake nestled against the foothills of the Alps and fed by the melting snow of the white capped peaks. By utilizing existing facilities of this popular north Italian summer resort, the advance group had the camp ready in two days for the first contingent of restees.

Prefabricated barracks, built and used by the Germans before their surrender in Italy, afford the restees comfortable living quarters. One building has been converted into a day room with reading and writing facilities and a radio. One section of wall was lowered to provide a stage for U. S. O. troupe shows and a screen

Grateful Soldier Gives To Red Cross

Lt. Walter Joque is back home in Garden after spending a year in a German prison camp south-east of Berlin. While there he regularly received weekly packages from the American Red Cross.

Lt. Joque

Yesterday Lt. Joque walked into the Red Cross office of the Delta county chapter in Escanaba and presented Mrs. Mae Bergman, executive secretary of the chapter, with a check for $50. It was an expression of his appreciation for the Red Cross packages he had received while a prisoner of war.

Lt. Joque is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Joque of Garden. He was reported missing in action May 12, 1944, when the Mauser bomber on which he was a bombardier was knocked out of action in an attack upon an enemy troop concentration in Italy. The members of the crew, including Lt. Joque, who parachuted to safety were seized by the Germans. Last month he had been in service three years, and has been overseas since October, 1943. He returned to this country following the liberation by Russians of prisoners at the German camp.

for nightly movies.

Nearby are horseshoe, badminton and volleyball courts and the long clean pebbled beach is a playground in itself. Piers extending into the water have been rebuilt and provide mooring for speed launches, sailboats and canoes. A diving platform buoyed by metal drums is anchored in deeper water.

Besides swimming and water sports, including surfboard riding, there is abundant fishing. Awards for prize catches are planned.

In the Belle Vista hotel a spacious room is utilized for regularly scheduled dances. Tables on the gavelled plaza add a Riviera touch.

Meals are served the restees by the well screened kitchen of 3142 Signal Service Group. Free of Army routine and "on their own," visiting Signalmen can spend their three day leaves as lazily or as actively as they please.

Greene lives at 820 South First Avenue, Escanaba.

Today's Recipes

We print the following recipe in response to a request for a recipe for cream puffs:

Cream Puffs

One-half cup butter
One cup boiling water
Four eggs
One slightly rounding cup flour
Put butter and water in a sauce pan and place on stove. As soon as it becomes to boiling point, add flour all at once and beat briskly until the mixture is smooth. Remove from stove and add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating each one into the mixture before adding the next. Drop from a spoon on a buttered pan, one and one-half inches apart, pulling the mixture slightly in the center and shaping as nearly round as possible. Bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven. When cool, puncture top and fill with cream filling or whipped cream to which sugar and vanilla has been added.

Pvt. Cook Now Home Tells of Prison Life

Pvt. Clair "Bud" Cook, who had been a prisoner of war of the Germans for four months, has arrived home to spend a 60-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Joseph Raiche, 1403 Michigan avenue.

Pvt. Cook was first listed as missing in action as of Dec. 22, 1944, and then after months of anxiety it was learned through enemy broadcasts that he was a prisoner of war.

He was wounded in the foot by shrapnel and taken prisoner at St. Vith, Belgium, on Dec. 22. After being in Stalag 12-A for a time he was transferred to Stalag 4-B. In the box cars, 65 to a car, and kept there for four days without water and with only a single slice of bread for each prisoner during the time. The men licked the frosty hinges and other metal on the inside of the car to obtain moisture.

The prisoners were started on a march to Leipzig April 12 as the sound of Allied guns neared and 12 days later after having been marched more than 300 miles they were liberated by American forces.

They remained six days in Germany and then were flown to Rheims. Pvt. Cook was one of 204 ex-prisoners with 2600 servicemen to return to this country aboard a transport arriving here June 16. First taken to Camp Patrick Henry and then to Fort Sheridan, he arrived home four days after landing.

Cook said that both German food and treatment were bad. He weighed 100 pounds when released from the camp in Germany and today, less than two months later, weighs 137.

Upon completion of his furlough here he will go to a rest camp at Miami Beach, Fla.

German Treatment
Of War Prisoners

Pfc. Clare C. Henry, who prior to his entrance into the armed service lived at Germantown and whose wife is the former Agnes Smith of that community, writes home that he has been stationed for some time in Germany and for a while his outfit took charge of a certain unnamed concentration camp where it was his questionable privilege to see at first hand some of the terrible results of the inhuman treatment the Nazi authorities gave those imprisoned by them.

Private Henry says that for more than a week his company carted away for burial, bodies of dead prisoners at a rate of ten wagon loads a day. Enclosed in his letter were snapshots of some of the gruesome sights he had been called upon to witness.

Michigan State
4-H Scholarship to
Wilbert Tanguay

Wilbert Tanguay, son of John Tanguay, of Cooks, has been awarded a scholarship by the Michigan State college. A letter announcing the award was received Wednesday by J. L. Hierman, county agent, and comes in recognition of outstanding potato club work in connection with 4-H club activity.

This is the second time 4-H club scholarships have been awarded local young people for outstanding 4-H club activity. Last year, Lillian Merwin was awarded a scholarship for achievement in clothing work.

Schoolcraft county has again been recognized for some of its outstanding 4-H club work according to J. L. Hierman, county agricultural agent.

In a recent letter from the state 4-H club department at Michigan State college it was announced that Wilbert Tanguay, of Cooks, had been awarded a scholarship for outstanding potato club work.

The scholarships are for the four year course at the college and are preselected to club members who do outstanding work in the various 4-H projects. This award was based on his record for past years and not on one year's work.

The scholarship amounts to $95 and is to be applied on fees when enrolling. Of this amount, $50 is to be used the first year during which the student must maintain a grade average of 1.5 to qualify for the remainder, to be used the following year.

Busy In Manistique

Two checks, one for $27.52, and one for $15.00, were pronounced fraudulent when presented for clearance at the State Savings Bank of Manistique on Thursday morning.

Both checks were made out to "Peter Sindle," and were signed "Frank Hartman." The writing is entirely different than that of Hartman's, and the check forms are also different than the ones he personally uses. The larger check was cashed at the Suddall Drug Store, and the other one at a pool hall operated by Harry English.

The matter is being investigated by the state police, and merchants in the meantime are being warned to be on the alert.

Cubs Win Fifth Straight; Indians Buttoned Up By Tigers 5 To 1

PITCHERS GIVEN ROUGH HANDLING

Bruins Collect 13 Hits From Two Pirate Moundmen

Chicago, June 21 (AP)—The surging Chicago Cubs won their fifth straight victory today by defeating Pittsburgh, 5 to 4, before 8,644. The Cubs hammered two Pittsburgh pitchers for 13 hits, while Henry Wyse held the Pirates to seven.

Don Johnson's double, followed by Bill Nicholson's single gave the Cubs their last tally and the Pirates scored again in the ninth when Johnny Barrett walked and Handley doubled to right field. Pittsburgh ... 020 010 001—4 7 0 Chicago ... 201 011 00x—5 13 2 Roe, Sewell and Salkeld, Lopez, Wyse and Livingston.

SERIES CLINCHED

Philadelphia, June 21 (AP)—It was only the first day of summer but already the first place Brooklyn Dodgers have clinched the season series from Philadelphia, by defeating the Phillies 9-2 today.

The Dodgers bunched five hits in the eighth inning, two of which were triples by Eddie Basinski and John Dantonio. Luis Olmo chipped in with two hits, one his seventh homer, to drive in three runs and take over the league leadership in that department.

Both Philadelphia runs were unearned, coming in when Ed Stanky let Wally Flager's ground-er go through his legs with two out in the seventh. Brooklyn ... 011 000 052—9 15 1 Philadelphia ... 000 000 200—2 6 1 Buker, Lombardi and Dantonio; Leon, Karl, Judd and Seminick, Mancuso.

CARDS BLANK REDS

Cincinnati, June 21 (AP)—Behind Blix Donnelly's five-hit hurling, the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals blanked Cincinnati 4-0 today with the help of three doubles in the fourth and an eighth inning homer by Catcher Ken O'Dea. Vern Kennedy lost his second game since coming from Philadelphia, yielding six of the Cards' eight hits in seven innings, including the successive two-basers to Whitey Kuroski, Ray Sanders and Emil Verban, good for two runs. Martin Marion's single and Johnny Hopp's double in the seventh netted the other. St. Louis ... 000 200 110—4 8 0 Cincinnati ... 000 000 000—0 5 2 Donnelly and O'Dea; Kennedy, Lisenbee and Unser.

DETROIT RACES LACK ENTRIES

Friday Program Called Off; Over 800 Horses Stabled At Track

Detroit, June 21 (AP)—The Detroit Racing association today cancelled its Friday program at the Detroit Fair Grounds track and announced an "indefinite" shutdown because owners and trainers failed to enter enough horses to fill Friday's eight-race twilight program. Tonight's program was not affected.

George W. Lewis, general manager of the DRA, said there would be no further racing here until trainers enter enough horses to fill a day's program 28 hours in advance. Racing Secretary Charles F. Henry said he has had difficulty filling fair grounds programs for the last two days, although there are more than 800 horses stabled at the track. The Friday card was 25 horses short of its minimum requirements when it was cancelled, Henry said.

Partly responsible for the reluctance of owners and trainers to enter their horses, it was believed, is a current claiming rush in which 36 horses were claimed during the first four racing days. Lewis said the track's management is informing turfmen either to race their horses or surrender stall space.

It was generally believed that Saturday's program at the Fair Grounds would be filled and only one day of racing would be lost. Fayette Baseball Team Organized The Fayette baseball club has organized for the season and is interested in scheduling games with teams in this area. Any clubs seeking to schedule the Fayette team should contact Herbert Pizzola, manager, at Fayette.

The first newspaper to be published in Canada was the Quebec "Gazette." It was printed in alternate columns of English and French.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

League officials and baseball managers have established rules to preserve the dignity of the game and possess strong authority to enforce those rules, but it is true that an outbreak, a fit of temper, sometimes even a bit of fistcuffs adds color and life to baseball and contributes to make that sport the great American game. These outbreaks, of course, must be natural and not posed incidents. They reflect the American fighting spirit and a healthy portion of what we call the will to win.

Pitcher George Caster of the St. Louis Browns upset the decorum of major league baseball Wednesday by firing a baseball into the dugout of the White Sox when he was being yanked by Manager Luke Sewell. The incident nearly started a riot at Sportsman's Park, but tempers subsided almost as quickly as they had flared and the game finally proceeded without any bashed heads. Caster's impetuous act, frowned on in official circles, nevertheless gave the crowd unexpected boost in blood pressure and an added thrill. They'll remember that game long after many others have been forgotten.

A rash of such incidents, of course, would be extremely harmful to baseball, which is exactly the reason why rules and regulations are written to discourage them. For one thing, modern baseball is too valuable to jeopardize in diamond brawls. Then, too, the fans would soon get thoroughly fed up on rowdism at the ball parks if this sort of thing became a standard part of the game. Just a little bit of it, however, spontaneously injected, adds spice, and helps to make baseball the grand American sport.

Bobo Newsom, commenting on the $500 fine Mel Ott plastered on Pitcher Bill Voiselle for grooving a 2-0 pitch, recalls a similar rule by Rogers Hornsby with the Browns. Hornsby started out with a $50 fine for soft pitches on a 2-0 count, but later upped the ante to $100. Jim Walup was on the mound for the Browns against the Yankees one day and had two strikes and no balls on Lefty Gomez. He aimed his next pitch wide of the plate, but the umpire yelled, "Strike three." Walup rushed to the plate frantically. "No, no, that wasn't no strike. It was a foot wide. You're costing me a hundred bucks. For cripes!"

Top-Notch Golfers In Tournament At Plum Hollow Links

Detroit, June 21 (AP)—Four of the nation's top-ranking professional golf stars lock horns here starting tomorrow in the season's most exclusive 72-hole tournament, the "big four" invitational at Plum Hollow golf club.

Competing in the three-day benefit event at stroke play are Byron Nelson, red hot Toledo ace who leads the pros in money winnings; Harold (Jub) McSpaden, the year's No. 2 break winner; Craig Wood, duration National Open champion, and Sam Byrd, slugging Plum Hollow pro.

Net proceeds will go into a golf fund for servicemen at Percy Jones hospital, Battle Creek, Mich. In addition to the first round stroke play a simultaneous best-ball competition is slated for single 18-hole rounds Friday and Saturday, Nelson pairing with Frank Walsh, McSpaden with Al Watrous, Wood with Chick Rutan and Byrd with Claude Harmon.

Nelson and McSpaden join forces Sunday for a 36-hole best-ball match against Wood and Byrd as the "big four" wind up their 72-hole medal play scramble.

Greenberg Works Out In Park, May Play Within Ten Days

BY FRANK KENESSON

Detroit, June 21 (AP)—With Frank (Stubby) Overmire spacing seven hits and driving in two runs, the league leading Detroit Tigers cuffed the Cleveland Indians 5 to 1 today, sweeping a three-game series.

Hank Greenberg, placed in inactive status last week by the army, engaged in his first practice before the game, working both in the outfield and at first base. Greenberg is expected to be ready to play within 10 days.

Detroit tagged Jim Bagby, Cleveland starter, for nine hits in six innings, scoring once in each of the first three frames and twice on Overmire's single in the sixth.

Overmire had a five-hit shutout until the ninth, when Ex-Tiger Don Ross singled to left, took second on an infield out and scored on Myril Hoag's single to left. Cleveland had gone scoreless here for 20 successive innings before spoiling Overmire's shutout.

Four Cleveland double plays kept down the score as Overmire recorded his fifth victory against two defeats. The loss was Bagby's eighth against one win.

Ross Causes Trouble

Skeeter Webb's single, Eddie Mayo's sacrifice and Rudy York's hit accounted for the initial Tiger run in the first. Bob Maier singled to left in the second, took second on Bob Swift's hit, stole third and scored on Dutch Meyer's error. Jim Outlaw's fly to right scored Mayo in the third after Mayo had singled, Roy Cullenbine had walked and both moved up on York's infield out.

Outlaw singled to left center in the sixth, beat Bagby's throw to the mound, Swift moved both runners up with a sacrifice and Overmire singled past second to make it 5-0.

Ross was the only Cleveland batsman who caused Overmire any trouble. The former Tiger third baseman singled in the fifth and took second on Bagby's scratch hit to Mayo but died there. Ross doubled leading off the seventh but the Indians again couldn't advance him.

Overmire walked only one man while fanning two and turned in several fielding gems. All of Detroit's nine hits off Bagby were singles. Left-hander Earl Henry fed Cullenbine a two-bagger in the seventh and yielded a triple by Outlaw in the eighth but both times double plays prevented further Tiger scoring.

The Tigers, without Greenberg who remained here for batting practice, left after the game for St. Louis, where they meet the Browns in night games Friday and Saturday and a doubleheader Sunday. Paul Trout was slated to hurt the St. Louis opener.

Semi-Final Round Of Women's Open Reached By Babe

Indianapolis, June 21 (AP)—Defending Champion Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Los Angeles, trimmed Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., 4 and 3, to gain the semi-final round of the 16th annual Women's Western Open golf tournament today.

Mrs. Zaharias never left the outcome in doubt as she made the turn four holes ahead of her southern foe and covered the necessary 15 holes in 64, one over women's par, with four birdies and six pars. Miss Kirby, a 1943 runner-up, had a 43 for the first nine and took only two holes—no. 11th as Mrs. Zaharias three-putted, and the 13th with her only birdie.

Dorothy Germain, of Philadelphia, copped the top two par-bracket at 69 by a 5 and 3 margin over Betty Hicks, Chicago, professional. Miss Germain, who held a 2 up margin at the turn, covered the 15 holes in even par 63 to give her second and quarter final round firing.

13 IN ONE INNING

Boston, June 21 (AP)—Dave Ferriss, Boston Red Sox pitching hero, was battered from the mound for the first time in his major league career today and the New York Yankees, only American League team to beat him previously, triumphed, 14 to 4.

Ferriss was clouted for five hits and nine runs before being relieved and the Yanks went on from there to score 13 times in that frame, coming within one run of their own league record for tallies in an inning.

Seventeen batsmen went to the plate in that frame and nine of them bashed out hits and four drew passes.

Walt Dubiel breezed along with a two-hitter until the eighth when the Red Sox counted three times on four hits, Jimmy Bucher's Texas League single scoring two of the runs. Dubiel and Garkark; Ferriss, Barrett, Heflin and Walters.

NEED 175 MEN FOR DOCK JOB

Army Contract Awarded
Jointly To Two Companies

The contract for dismantling of the government's No. 1 ore dock in Escanaba has been awarded jointly to the Cleveland Wrecking company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the Cuyahoga Wrecking company of Cleveland, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers office in Milwaukee, revealed yesterday. It had previously been indicated that the contract was awarded solely to the Cleveland Wrecking company.

The contract is in excess of half a million dollars, the exact amount depending upon the quantity of timber salvaged on the job.

Glenn H. Myers, of the Cleveland Wrecking company, will act as general superintendent for the joint contractors. Myers arrived in Escanaba Wednesday to make preliminary arrangements for the project and indicated that the employment of labor will begin Monday at the local office of the United States Employment Service, 1323 Ludington street. The company will have a labor recruiting representative at the USES office, it was reported.

It has been estimated that approximately 175 men will be required for the dismantling operations. A portable sawmill will be set up at the project site to convert the timbers into lumber for other government projects. Approximately 12,000,000 feet of timber is expected to be salvaged from the operations.

The ore dock will be dismantled by sections, just as it was erected. The sections will be dropped into the water and then loaded on cars by a crane to be transported to the sawmill for conversion into lumber.

Actual work on the project will probably begin by midweek if sufficient men can be recruited by that time.

The Cleveland Wrecking company and the Cuyahoga Wrecking company were low of four bidders, the army engineers office reported.

Numbering Of Boats Explained By C. G.

Owners of undocumented vessels on the Great Lakes and connecting tributary waters may replace large-size wartime motorboat numbers with smaller ones, Coast Guard district headquarters announced yesterday.

Basic numbering regulations have not been changed, the Coast Guard emphasized and motorboat owners can decide for themselves whether they wish to replace the large numbers with smaller ones.

Undocumented vessels required to be numbered are those equipped with permanently fixed engines; all boats over 16 feet in length equipped with detachable engines; and all boats over 16 feet in length equipped with detachable engines as the ordinary means of propulsion.

If owners decide to replace the larger numbers with smaller ones, the Coast Guard pointed out that each number shall be not less than three inches in height and shall be displayed on each bow of the vessel. The number shall be painted horizontally in block characters, reading from left to right, on each side of the bow parallel with the waterline. Distance between the waterline and the bottom of the number shall not be less than the minimum height of the number.

Former Resident Dies In Dearborn

George Burns, former Escanaba resident, died Wednesday, June 20, in Dearborn after an illness of one year. Burial will be in Detroit.

He is survived by his wife and son, George, who is in the Merchant Marine; his mother, Mrs. J. F. Burns; the following brothers and sisters: Robert and Mrs. Oliver McKenzie, Escanaba; Marion, Wall Lake; Willard, Detroit; Bartley, Milwaukee; Mrs. Clark Cuthbert, Escanaba; and an aunt, Mrs. George Lehr, Escanaba. Mrs. Cuthbert has left for Detroit to attend the funeral services.

King George II of Greece is the great-grandson of Queen Victoria of England and has not a drop of Greek blood in his veins.
